AMERICAN SOCIETY OF PLASTIC SURGEONS
PLASTIC SURGERY FOUNDATION

Policy on Conflicts of Interest

In order for the Society and Foundation to further the purposes for which they are organized and to maintain the excellent reputation in which they are held by the public and the medical profession, it is important that Society and Foundation decisions and actions not be influenced unduly by any special interests of individual members. The Society and Foundation depend upon their members to shape their policies and the actions of those members in shaping such policies must not be inappropriately affected by outside influences. Therefore, it has always been and continues to be important to identify actual or potential conflicts of interest which might improperly affect Society and Foundation activities and decisions. As the professional and business settings and relationships in which Society and Foundation members play significant roles become increasingly varied and complex, informal means of identifying actual or potential conflicts of interest become increasingly inadequate. Accordingly, the Board of Directors of the Society and the Board of Directors of the Foundation have adopted this more formal system for the disclosure and evaluation of possible conflicts of interest.

A. Definition of a Conflict of Interest.

A conflict of interest is defined as an interest held by a member that could influence the member or be perceived as influencing the member to act contrary to the interests of the Society or the Foundation and for the member’s own personal benefit or for the benefit of an immediate family member or business associate. For purposes of this policy an immediate family member is defined as a member’s spouse, children, and parents.
B. Duty to Disclose Conflicting Interests.

Each officer, director, trustee, committee chair, committee member, task force chair, task force member, the editor and members of the editorial boards of the Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery Journal and Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery-Global Open and others holding leadership positions in the Society and Foundation shall disclose all actual or potential conflicts of interest which he or she may identify during the course of his or her service to the Society and Foundation. For the purposes of this document all of the forgoing individuals will be referred to by the term ("Volunteer Leader"). Sources of possible conflicting interests which must be disclosed include the following:

(1) Interests which may affect economic transactions to which the Society or the Foundation is or may be a direct party. An example would be ownership by a Society or Foundation officer of a financial interest in a company from which the Society or Foundation makes purchases of goods or services.

(2) Interests which might cause a representative of the Society or Foundation to abuse a Society or Foundation position in order to achieve objectives which are inconsistent with the purposes of the Society or the Foundation. An example would be a Volunteer Leader holding a material financial interest in a company that competes with a company whose product is being reviewed by a Society or Foundation committee.

(3) Affiliations, including officer, director, committee and consulting positions, with organizations which have conflicting or dual goals or have competing business and professional interests or activities. Examples would include participation on the Board of a medical specialty society that conducts competing business activities such as coding and practice management workshops or sponsored insurance programs; participation on the board of a pharmaceutical company which advocates a reimbursement policy conflicting with that of the Society; serving as a consultant to a company that provides goods and services to Society members; or serving in an officer, director, trustee or committee position in another organization whose membership is comprised principally of surgeons certified by the American Board of Plastic Surgery.

(4) The receipt of research grants or similar contributions from commercial entities from which the Society or Foundation or its members obtain goods or services by a Volunteer Leader or by the academic institutions or departments or practice groups with which the Volunteer Leader is affiliated.

(5) Other personal relationships, activities or interests that may impair an individual’s objectivity or may inappropriately influence the individual’s decisions or actions in Society or Foundation matters.

The foregoing examples are illustrative and should not be considered the only ones which might give rise to a conflict of interest. If in doubt, one should err on the side of full disclosure in order to permit an objective and impartial determination of the possible conflict by the Society and the Foundation.

Disclosure Statement

Each Society officer, director, trustee, committee chair, committee member, task force chair, task force member, and the editor and each member of the editorial boards of the Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery Journal and Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery – Global Open and each Foundation officer, director and committee chairperson will be required to sign and submit to the Secretaries of the Society and the Foundation annual disclosure statements. Attached to this policy statement as Exhibit A is a copy of such disclosure statement. The Boards of Directors of the Society and Foundation may from time to time amend the content and form of the statement.
Resolving Conflicts

A. Recusal

The ASPS President, the PSF President, the Executive Vice President and Chair of the Conflict of Interest Committee of the Society shall review the conflict of interest disclosure statements and agenda in order to be alert to potential conflicts and to resolve conflicts wherever possible in advance of meetings of the Society and Foundation’s Board and Executive Committee.

The foregoing procedure shall also be followed by the Editorial Board and Committees of the Society and Foundation except that in the case of Committees, the Committee Chair and Vice Chair shall perform the functions performed by the President and the Staff Liaison shall perform the functions performed by the Executive Vice President.

When any matter comes before the Board or Executive Committee of the Society, the Board of the Foundation, Committee or Task Force that has the potential to create a conflict for a Volunteer Leader, the affected Volunteer Leader shall make known the potential conflict, whether or not disclosed by his or her written disclosure statement. Disclosure should be made as soon as practicable to avoid any inadvertent harm to the Society or the Foundation. To ensure appropriate disclosure, a summary of the information disclosed by each Volunteer Leader with specific financial data redacted will be provided to each Board Committee, or Task Force member at the beginning of each meeting. The Volunteer Leader shall respond to any questions that might be asked by other members of the Board, Committee or Task Force.

The Presiding Officer, with the assistance of legal counsel, may request the Volunteer Leader to:

1. remain in the room, participating fully in the discussion involving the conflict but not vote;

2. remain in the room while the matter is being discussed but not speak or vote;
3. provide his or her opinion and leave the room while the matter is considered and voted upon;

4. remain out of the room while the matter is being considered and voted upon.

The Presiding Officer may also make other determinations related to the matter, including insulating the Volunteer Leader from documents that might be related.

If the Volunteer Leader disagrees with the ruling of the President or does not agree that a conflict exists, the matter will be referred to the Conflict of Interest Committee.

If the conflict of interest affects the Presiding Officer, the President-Elect (or Co-Chair or Vice Chair in the case of Committees and Task Forces) is empowered to act and to request that the Presiding Officer recuse himself or herself. The same procedures as outlined above will be followed if the Presiding Officer disagrees with the ruling of the President-Elect (or Co-Chair or Vice Chair). For the duration of the discussion and action on the matter, the President-Elect (or Co-Chair or Vice Chair) shall preside.

The minutes of the meeting shall reflect the disclosure of the potential conflict and any actions taken in response to the disclosure.

B. Dissociation

Dissociation refers to a Volunteer Leader severing a relationship with another organization which has conflicting or dual goals or has competing businesses or professional interests or activities and which, in the opinion of the Society, poses a sufficient conflict of interest to require such action.

Consideration of dissociation for a Volunteer Leader with an organizational conflict may be initiated by any member or by the Conflict of Interest Committee. A request initiated by a member will be provided to the Conflict of Interest Committee in writing together with the rationale supporting the request. The Conflict of Interest Committee either on its own initiative or after considering the request of the member will make a recommendation to the Board of Directors as to whether the Volunteer Leader is to sever his or her relationship with the organization or in the alternative resign his or her position as Director. A two-thirds (2/3) vote of the Board of Directors will be required to approve the recommendation of the Conflict of Interest Committee. If the Board of Directors decides upon dissociation or in the alternative resignation, the Volunteer Leader may appeal the decision to the Trustees where a two-thirds vote of the Trustees will be required to uphold the recommendation of the Conflict of Interest Committee as approved by the Board of Directors. The Trustees will have thirty (30) days after their review to make their decision, and their decision will be final and binding.

Activities Following Term

A former Volunteer Leader’s affiliation with another organization following his or her term raises a concern that the Volunteer Leader’s prior affiliation with the ASPS might be used to promote the policies of such other organization. This situation could arise if the Society’s name is used in connection with any policy of another organization, or if the former Volunteer Leader participates in public representation and advocacy for another organization.

A Volunteer Leader’s activities following the end of the Volunteer Leader’s term are restricted as indicated below.

1. A former Volunteer Leader shall not use the ASPS name or his or her prior affiliation with the ASPS in any manner which would imply ASPS support or endorsement of policies or activities of another organization, without prior written approval from the Executive Committee or ASPS/PSF Board of Directors.

2. A former Volunteer Leader shall not use the ASPS name or his or her prior affiliation with the ASPS for commercial gain.
(3) A former Volunteer Leader shall not disclose confidential or proprietary information.

(4) A former Volunteer Leader shall refrain from disparaging the ASPS. However, the expression of differences or disagreements with ASPS policies or positions following the conclusion of a Volunteer Leader’s term do not constitute disparagement.

Conclusion

Because proper disclosure by each individual Society and Foundation Volunteer Leader is essential, it is important to approach with the proper perspective the question of what types of circumstances call for disclosure. The purpose of this policy is not to discourage all involvement by Society and Foundation Volunteer Leaders in outside activities which might produce actual or potential conflicts with interests of the Society or the Foundation. Common sense should guide all decisions about what to disclose. One reasonable test is whether a particular interest or relationship, if disclosed to the full membership of the Society and Foundation would be likely to cause embarrassment for the Society or Foundation and/or the individual involved or evoke suspicion about the motives behind any Society or Foundation action.
