Nominating Committee Regional Representatives Geographic Distribution

Society membership has been apportioned among five geographic regions, so that each region represents approximately 20% of the total number of Active and Life Active members. For this reason, the Midwest Region, in particular, includes states that are not normally considered part of the Midwest.